

I do not agree that the FCC should relax the standard for indecency on TV to allow fleeting instances of profanity or full frontal female nudity. It seems that each time rules are relaxed, broadcasters push the envelope even more.