

I have 3 young boys. I am upset with the showing of a naked female buttocks on the current commercial for Discovery Channels Naked and Afraid series. It is a commercial that comes on during several shows that we enjoy like Alaska the last frontier. It is not our choice what commercials are played like we can decide what shows to allow them to watch. Why should a 7 year old boy be exposed to the naked butt of a 30 year old woman in his family living room? I think that this commercial is definitely over the line.
