

Please leave the existing decency standards on television alone. In all honesty they should be stricter for the families, that don't want their kids to see all the trash that's on their now.