

Why enact a law that allows more skin and profanity on network TV? Many options exist for adults who wish to view this (internet, cable, pay-per-view) but what about families who'd like to watch a show together without worrying about what their children will be exposed to?