

Filling our American airways with explicit sex and profanity is a very bad idea. Our innocent and impressionable young children are watching. Do the right thing. Return to a media culture that respects the family audience.