

Please do not relax the standards of nudity and foul speech (obscene) on broadcast television. We are over sexed as a society. Just the commercials alone on vialis during prime time TV are over the top for young children and adolescents. I am sure you are aware of the "frog in the kettle" illustration where the media is the source of raising the temperature to boiling. I was just reading about First Tee where they teach honesty, respect, integrity and perseverance among others. Please stand for such in regulating what is broadcast on TV. Do not lower the standards.

Thank you,
Cody Watson
