

I definitely oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards. The FCC must continue to vigorously oppose ALL indecent content, even if brief or "fleeting." We must think of the children - they are the future. And for the record I don't like to hear or see any indecent content either. We try to avoid program like that even though our children are grown.