

I do on-line surveys for a bit of extra cash to supplement my fixed income. Received a card in the mail with a number to call as I had won a free 100.00 gift card from either walmart or Target. It had a claim number on it. I called and got a lady with a accent that sounded foreign. She said to claim the gift card all I had to do was send them 6.00 for shipping and handling fees. I said no way and she hung up without further comment. I fear someone may get scammed here. the number to call was 855-793-8206. How do I find the name of the outfit promoting this scam???? Be careful out there friends.
