

If this type of nudity and profanity is allowed on TV during hours in which children can view it, that is a violation of my rights to protect my children against topics/images they are not emotional or mentally prepared for. Allowing this kind of content on network television and cable during daytime hours is just setting people up for failure. No one in this industry seems to care about the emotions or boundaries of people...we are simply viewers (or frankly, dollar signs) to be enticed by sexual images or harsh language. I do not want my family, or any families, subject to this. And my option may be to not watch any television, but there needs to be a safe zone in which people that do not choose to see those kinds of images can still watch TV, especially children. We need to protect our families.

Pornography is one of America's greatest exports, and allowing nudity on daytime television is simply going to degrade our culture until no one is safe from inappropriate sexual content. This is not a responsible decision and will only have negative effects. It must not happen.
