

Encryption may be a good idea. Reduce intentional interference, and make it more difficult for terrorist to listen to Amateur Radio Emergency communications if they were planning to attack after some kind of disaster.