

I urge the FCC to deny this proposal to permit further encryption of amateur radio communications. The need is unwarranted and runs contrary to the stated purposes of amateur radio. There are sufficient non-amateur resources available to provide secure and encrypted communications. I am also concerned that allowing encrypted communications may make the amateur service vulnerable to covert commercial use and other unlawful activities.