Comment: I am responding to the FCC's request for comments on possible changes to its broadcast decency policies that are due on June 19, 2013. I oppose any changes to the broadcast decency standards that have been enacted by the Congress. The FCC should not weaken them to allow even fleeting instances of profanity or nudity. The Supreme Court has recognized the FCC's authority to prohibit indecency during hours when children may be watching. Relaxing these standards will only lead to greater vulgarity and sexuality on broadcast TV.

I oppose any changes to the broadcast decency standards that have been enacted by the Congress. Things on TV are already too vulgar. Sexual content is extreme and they already use the "F" and "P" word, which I HATE!!

STOP -STOP -STOP NO FURTHER RELAXATION ON STANDARDS!!

Comment: I am responding to the FCC's request for comments on possible changes to its broadcast decency policies that are due on June 19, 2013. I oppose any changes to the broadcast decency standards that have been enacted by the Congress. The FCC should not weaken them to allow even fleeting instances of profanity or nudity. The Supreme Court has recognized the FCC's authority to prohibit indecency during hours when children may be watching. Relaxing these standards will only lead to greater vulgarity and sexuality on broadcast TV.

We no longer own a television, but still watch tv shows on the internet. when I visit homes and watch current tv shows, I am appalled at the disrespect and vulgarity I see portrayed in shows these days. My children do not watch anything correct on television for these reasons! Please oppose these proposed changes to standards we already have and protect our families from the potential increased vulgarities and nudity that these changes would allow. We need to draw the line somewhere and stick to it!!

Comment: I am responding to the FCC's request for comments on possible changes to its broadcast decency policies that are due on June 19, 2013. I oppose any changes to the broadcast decency standards that have been enacted by the Congress. The FCC should not weaken them to allow even fleeting instances of profanity or nudity. The Supreme Court has recognized the FCC's authority to prohibit indecency during hours when children may be watching. Relaxing these standards will only lead to greater vulgarity and sexuality on broadcast TV.

Comment: I am responding to the FCC's request for comments on possible changes to its broadcast decency policies that are due on June 19, 2013. I oppose any changes to the broadcast decency standards that have been enacted by the Congress. The FCC should not weaken them to allow even fleeting instances of profanity or nudity. The Supreme Court has recognized the FCC's authority to prohibit indecency during hours when children may be watching. Relaxing these standards will only lead to greater vulgarity and sexuality on broadcast TV.

Have we lost all common sense and decency" It's already uncomfortable to watch tv commercials that advertise Viagra or barley dressed women and men with your family. Enough is enough and in the best interest of families this should not be allowed to change. Honestly, thier should be even stricter guidlines as to what is aired on our tv shows/movies.

Comment: I am responding to the FCC's request for comments on possible changes to its broadcast decency policies that are due on June 19, 2013. I oppose any changes to the broadcast decency standards that have been enacted by the Congress. The FCC should not weaken them to allow even fleeting instances of profanity or nudity. The Supreme Court has recognized the FCC's authority to prohibit indecency during hours when children may be watching. Relaxing these standards will only lead to greater vulgarity and sexuality on broadcast TV.
