

Consumers are being defrauded by public safety and public health broadcasts, relay services and signals into purchasing services and products for protection or health related services under false pretenses. The parties to such mass communications have financial and health related obligations to organized crime and a euthanasia network which triggers fatal internet protocols resulting from such communications. There is a need to restrict all communications and signals public and private, local, national and international that have been violating HIPAA regulations, violate the disability act, that incite prejudice and bias, that falls under witness and evidence tampering. The broadcasts are stressful therefore, increasing consumer health related problems and the content and data is from experimental practices and of entertainment quality.
