

Our system of government is broken due to extreme partisanship and obstruction by Congressional Republicans and money in politics. In the 1930s major legislation had fewer pages making it easier to read and understand but due to the power of lobbyists and their wheeling and dealing for exemptions and loopholes we now have legislation that has 900 plus pages. We need to protect the Open Internet and keep it a participatory platform for political activism and to get rid of money in politics. The Social Security Act and Glass Steagall Act had only 30-37 pages.
