

The ability for uncontrollable advertisements to be placed on Websites is growing. These annoying, uncontrollable, unwanted, advertisements use sexually explicit graphics/photographs to stream uncontrollable audio/visual ads across this country. These ads are literally ruining user experience on such sites as CNN.com, various movie sites, and virtually any site is a victim. My hope and vision is that someone takes control of this growing predicament limit and constrain this growing menace to internet use.