

Please DO NOT REMOVE funding for school district websites via E-rate rebates. Our district of 125,000 students rely on this service and it is critical to how we share information with parents and other key stakeholder groups (emergencies, school activities, district/school/classroom information, supplemental learning content, 21st century learning, etc). Web hosting from an instructional and educational standpoint for students, parents, teachers, and administrators in school districts is absolutely necessary and I am afraid reduction in E-rate rebates would eliminate these services.
