

Our children are forced to grow up too quickly. Don't continue to take away their innocence and naïveté for ratings sake. So many family's are already considering dropping tv services because of lack of wholesome viewing.