

Cellular Phone Task Force is a nonprofit organization that provides support for 5,000 individuals who are being continuously tortured by legal levels of radio frequency radiation. Some have died from their exposures and others have committed suicide. The FCC needs to scrap the current regulations and revise them completely to comport with current science.