

Many of the free services offered may not be used legally by younger students. Many of the free services never last beyond a year or become completely irrelevant in a short time span. Free services are not org owned and therefore should not be subject to monitoring by the schools. Ex: Cyber bullying through email would not be investigatable without subpoena issued. It is ludicrous to think free services are just as good as paid.