

I signed up with verizon March 1 2013, by March 27th 2013 I was past due?? Also, I recieved 3 billings within my first mo of verizon, at one point my first bill was paid with credit and verizon adjustment., but then 1 day later, I was rebilled the same but without the adjustment and so forth, now...after having verizon 6 months, I (by them verizon) is 2 months behind..I have tried since the 27th day of having service with them to correct and do my billing right. They started my billing in Feb 2013, even thou I didnt sign up until march. They have messed my account upso badly, that I dont want to deal with them any more, regardless of my credit if I break the contract...I dont care. They are the ones who breeched the contract the first mo of my new service, then they refused, lied and charged me outrages charges, for questioning my billing, asking for help...verizon is a shame.
