

Our school website, web hosting, and email are essential to the educational and learning environment here at Mother of God School. These are primary sources of communication with our parents, keeping them abreast of what their children are learning to foster the necessary home-school relationship for student success. Our teachers also post homework and vital educational links on our website, which our students rely on. We appreciate the funding that has been provided in the past and our services to the students would suffer if we lost that funding.

Sincerely,

Erin Ryan
