

Hello,

To whomever this comment goes to I have one question. I was born in 1992 during this time all of the bad or vulgar words were totally censored out. Now I am older and use most of the vulgar words, but I do not swear around my family. Ever since I reached this age I realized that the majority of vulgar words that used to be beeped out like Bitch, Pussy, ass-hole are no longer beeped out. I usually watch tv with my little sister or my nieces and nephews and I get really upset when these words are not beeped out. I am well aware that as the World moves forward these words are being used more frequently in common places. So I really just want to know is how come these words are no longer considered bad because they used to be at one point?

Thanks
