As a CTE instructor with a computer lab E-Rate is vital to myself and my students. With 55 to 65 percent of our families living under the poverty level set by the state having internet access is wonderful. Students are able to explore a larger variety of sites because of the internet. Local income levels do not permit widespread travel so these students can find out any information they seek. I am very grateful for this program and hope it remains a viable source for years to come. Thank You.
