

7520961567.txt

I think it is a good idea since no new frequency space is used and bandwidth limits would not be altered. Also further development of even faster protocols in the same bandwidth limitations depends on the success of this rulemaking.