

7520961638.txt

Amateur radio operators involved in emergency communications need the enhanced capabilities of digital modes such as Pactor 4 and other future developments to quickly and accurately transmit emergency communications.

Pactor 4 and others will make communications faster and more efficient.

With such digital modes available, hams will use them on the HF, VHF, and UHF bands in normal communications to develop their familiarity with the mode.