

7520962350.txt

I strongly support removing the symbol rate limitation from the FCC rules. Technology has progressed far beyond the point when these rules were established. They are not needed and they are restricting traffic throughput which needs to increase for disaster response stations that are over loaded. This change does not alter the Bandwidth or frequencies used for these stations. It has no negative impact on the Ham spectrum and brings us in alignment with other countries operating rules.

Dudley Emer
KK7IF / AFA9DU
Comm-L
FEMA Urban Search and Rescue
NV Task Force #1