

7521064303.txt

I am opposed to allowing cell phone conversations on all airline flights. Plane cabins are such enclosed spaces that one loudmouth talking for hours would ruin my quiet, expensive travel time.

I do support, however, the use of texting and other quiet electronic communication flights.