We are on the FCC do-not-call list. We continue to receive multiple unsolicited sales calls weekly. We have informed these companies that we don't wish to be called again by them. We have filed multiple detailed complaints with the FCC. These are anonymous harassing phone calls: callers disconnect when asked for identifying information. We have submitted their phone numbers as part of our detailed complaints. We continue to receive these calls from the same callers month after month. There's no apparent enforcement action. We think it's past time for the FCC to begin enforcing the rules on these harassing callers.
