

7521065653.txt

Please reclassify internet service providers as common carriers. They really belong in that category and not in the same category as websites, etc. I know you are under a lot of political pressure but this is a worthwhile battle for free expression.