

7521066019.txt

This is a terrible idea. Commercial flying is already a crowded, unpleasant experience. Letting people talk on cell phones during flights would make it unbearable and lead to increased tensions among passengers, cause panic/complicate safety by interfering with announcements/directions, and cause me to only use airlines that won't allow it. Please don't increase the inconvenience and safety of flying.