

FCC- I am not certain this is the right place to file a complain, but I'm a really angry parent. During the broadcasting of the football game on FOX network (seahawks vs 49ers) on January 19th, 2014, commercials included multiple advertising for extremely violent movies, including Robocop and 3 days to kill. Mind you this was during the middle of the afternoon. This should be illegal. I have a three years old that was subject to seeing guns, and explosions, and people being killed, nothing a child should see at 3 PM in the afternoon during a family tv time such as watching a football game. Who is regulating these fools!?
