

I'm writing to ask the FCC to exempt areas like the Adirondack Park from the generic, one size fits all regulations governing cell towers. The Adirondack Park has had success in allowing towers to be built without destroying the natural beauty of the area, beauty that drives much of the tourist business and local economy in the north country. Please rewrite the regulation to exempt the Adirondack Park.

Dr. Victoria Boies
310 S. Michigan Ave #900
Chicago, IL 60604

22 Swiss Road #7
Lake Placid, NY