

7521068565.txt

Like most of the traveling public, I am totally against the notion of cellphone use during flight. Air travel in this modern age is already unreasonably uncomfortable; allowing the use of cellphones during flight would make it intolerable. Please listen to the traveling public rather than the corporations that would benefit financially from lifting the ban on in-flight cellphone use.
Respectfully, M. Neita RN