Reclassi fy Internet Servi ce Provi ders As Common Carri ers.

The Internet must remain a place where all information is treated equally. Where we can view and read everything. NOT a place where payment to ISPs takes precedence in the dissemination of information. NOT a place where content is slowed simply because, shucks, a competitor paid more money. ISPs make a large profit in providing access to the Internet. There is NO good reason to increase their profit, and ruin the concept of 'Net Neutrality.'
