

7521082599.txt

Reclassi fy Internet Servi ce Provi ders As Common Carri ers.

For those who are unaware, there is an ongoing war over the future of the internet. In the past, the internet itself has been a free forum that treats all comers (be they a person, a group, or a company) as equals. Some corporations are waging battle to change this state of affairs and make the internet an aristocracy where right of passage is purchased and there is a clear distinction between the rich and poor. Stopping this requires a strong government stance, please call or write to your congressman and the FCC.