

7521083585.txt

The FCC should stop this merger and treat the internet as a utility.

There is no meaningful competition to provide that utility now.

All internet providers should be treated equally.

The FCC should be promoting increased innovation and creativity, acting to decrease consumer costs and ensuring increased value of the internet to the public.