I do NOT want to switch from a copper telephone line to fiber optics or wireless. Fiber Optics depend on a battery for energy which is only good for a few hours. We sometimes have power outages for a whole day. Copper wire carries it own electricity. Due to "Smart" meters, I am now EMF sensitive. I have to limit my EMF exposure for health reasons. I do not want anymore wireless devices. I am a long term AT&T customers, you should respect my wishes.
