Concluding Remarks

Day 2: Friday, April 18, 2014 [FEDERAL INTERAGENCY PARTICIPANTS ONLY]

9:45 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

Session 4: Technology Transition and National Security/Federal Government Systems

This session will discuss the impact of the transition on federal programs and systems, including readiness, reliability, and remediation. Due to the sensitivity of the matter under discussion, this session will be limited to invited federal interagency participants and closed to the public. Attendees will be requested to provide federal government agency identification. However, a public synopsis of the session will be made available after the event.

Webcast: The Commission will provide audio and/or video coverage of the public sessions of the workshop over the Internet from the FCC's Web page at <http://www.fcc.gov/live>.

Reasonable Accommodations: Open captioning will be provided for this event. Other reasonable accommodations for people with disabilities are available upon request. Requests for such accommodations should be submitted via e-mail to fcc504@fcc.gov or by calling the Consumer & Governmental Affairs Bureau at (202) 418-0530 (voice), (202) 418-0432 (tty). Such requests should include a detailed description of the accommodation needed. In addition, please include a way the FCC can contact you if it needs more information. Please allow as much advance notice as possible; last-minute requests will be accepted, but may be impossible to fill.

Attendance: Members of the public are invited to attend all sessions on April 17, 2014. The session on April 18, 2014 will be closed to the public and federal government agency identification must be presented for admittance. All attendees are advised to arrive approximately 30 minutes prior to the start of the workshop to allow time to go through our security process. The FCC will attempt to accommodate as many attendees as possible; however admittance will be limited to seating availability.

Questions: The audience will have an opportunity to ask questions. We will also be accepting questions on issues presented during the public session discussions via email at livequestions@fcc.gov and Twitter by using "#TechTransitions" hashtag. Depending on the volume of questions and time constraints, session moderators will work to respond to as many questions as possible during the workshop.

Online Forum: During and after the workshop, we want to keep the conversation going. To facilitate ongoing dialogue between interested parties, we will host an online discussion forum that can be accessed through the FCC event page at <http://www.fcc.gov/events/technology-transitions-and-public-safety> beginning April 17, 2014. Anyone is welcome to join the dialogue, and all comments will become part of the official record for the GN Docket No. 13-5 proceeding. The forum will be open for comments until close of business on May 1, 2014. We look forward to your contributions.

Comments, reply comments, and ex parte submissions will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the FCC Reference Center, Federal Communications Commission, 445 12th Street, S.W., CY-A257, Washington, D.C., 20554. These documents will also be available via the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS). Documents will be available electronically in ASCII, Microsoft Word, and/or Adobe Acrobat. To request information in accessible formats (Braille, large print, electronic files, audio format), send an e-mail to fcc504@fcc.gov or call the FCC's Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau at (202) 418-0530 (voice), (202) 418-0432 (TTY).

Website: Updates to the agenda, as well as session materials will be available on the workshop's event page at <http://www.fcc.gov/events/technology-transitions-and-public-safety>.
