Oppose the Comcast -Time Warner merger.

My May 2014 monthly Comcast bill raised the rate for basic cable Internet connection by 50%. Comcast did so because their monopolistic pricing power allows them to do so. They can do it again and again. There is no regulation.

Today Internet access is not a frill or even an option. It is essential for participation in society comparable to electricity. It will become more so as the Internet of things evolves.

The unregulated telcos and cable companies have failed to deliver low cost, high speed Internet to Americans comparable to that provided by modern industrial nations. They must be regulated.
