I am thoroughly displeased with the FCC's recent decisions not supporting net neutrality. Allowing the throttling of the internet will destroy many small businesses from existing and starting up and will reduce our ability to communicate freely through means of our own choosing. Since the FCC is not protecting our constitutional rights to freedom of expression and the pursuit of happiness in my opinion, I will be writing my congressman (as well as encouraging others to do the same) to request a dramatic reduction in funding for the FCC as it no longer serves its purpose to the people.
