

7521099362.txt

I can't believe Tom Wheeler and the FCC are supporting the idea of "fast lanes," benefiting ISPs, hurting startups, relegating extra costs to the consumer. A real slap in the face to the idea of net neutrality.

RIP the golden age of the internet. I feel sick.