

7521099996.txt

Please rule the internet a common carrier. Just like no car manufacturer should have different rules of the road applied to only it's cars, the internet should treat all traffic the same, regardless of origination or destination.