

7521100081.txt

I strongly disagree with your proposal which will foster discrimination between new startups and big established content providers whose lobbyists must be gloating at your proposal. Neither I nor any of my friends and family buy your rationalization for this new rule. Please leave things the way they are. Your proposed compromise is a sellout which further increases our distrust of the government/industry alliance against ordinary people. Why did I vote for Obama?