

7521100746.txt

The FCC should be concerned with protecting the free and equitable flow of information, not pandering to the richest purveyors of content. Net neutrality should be an absolute imperative. Anything less is unacceptable.