

7521101058.txt

Please don't give in to the big companies. It would be a travesty to Americans and humans across the world if companies like Verizon got their way. It is difficult enough to work with our current providers. Eliminating the open internet will be a poor outcome for everyone because the companies won't have to be responsible to anyone. They will set more insane prices than there are already and we won't have a say