

7521101070.txt

Internet service providers are Common Carriers.
Please make that the law. Anything less than that invites telecom companies to simply route their traffic over internet connections to avoid Common Carrier laws.

It's common sense. This is ONLY a problem because funded interests are working against the common good. Please, rise above the money and declare all internet service providers to be Common Carriers.