

7521101114.txt

Ending or redefining net neutrality to benefit companies who have said their only reason for doing this is to raise their profits is horrible. All data should be handled equally. A company like Netflix shouldn't have to pay a toll for something I am already paying to access. Many ISPs don't even provide the speeds they agree upon because they refuse to update infrastructure.