

7521101871.txt

Broadband internet should be classified as a utility with common carriers. The FCC has no business tap dancing around the law to preserve existing commercial arrangements.