

7521101975.txt

I strongly oppose any attempt to destroy Net Neutrality.

The ISPs should be considered common carriers, particularly given their monopoly privileges.

Net Neutrality has served the economy well, and should not be tampered with to please the large corporations and their army of lobbyists.