

7521103060.txt

Broadband internet should be reclassified as a common carrier service. Allowing discrimination in internet content and service will destroy the huge cultural impact of the internet on Americans, regardless of their position in society.